Pastor Raul Alvarez

In Luke 15:8-10, we find the intriguing parable of the Lost Coin. This parable teaches us that, just like the coin, we may be physically present but spiritually lost. It reminds us that our appearance and location are not enough for God's purpose. Let's explore two key lessons from this parable.

Firstly, the coin's shiny exterior may have deceived it into thinking it was sufficient. However, the owner of the coin desired to use it for greater purposes beyond its appearance. Similarly, we often underestimate our potential and fail to realize that God has designed us for a unique purpose. Our true worth lies not in our outward appearance, but in how we allow ourselves to be used by the Master.

Secondly, the coin had value, but it remained unaware of its true worth. Likewise, we possess inherent value bestowed upon us by our Creator. God desires to use our talents, influence, and blessings to impact others, glorify His name, and bring joy to the world. However, until we are found, we cannot fulfill these divine plans. It is essential for us to recognize our value and allow God to work through us for His honor and glory.

Sometimes, we may find ourselves lost within the walls of a church, trapped in routine, or confined by our own habits. However, today is an opportunity for a genuine encounter with God. He seeks to find us, celebrate our salvation, and share the joyous experience with others.

Let us embrace the message of the Lost Coin and remember that we are not merely objects in a building, but treasured creations of the Almighty. May we open our hearts to God's search, allowing Him to guide us toward fulfilling our purpose and experiencing the true joy of salvation.

In conclusion, the Lost Coin parable reminds us of our hidden potential and the value we possess. Just as the coin was found and celebrated, God longs to find and use us for His divine purposes. Let us embrace this truth, allowing God to transform our lives and bring glory to His name.
