Pastor Phil Robertson

In Paul's letter to the Galatians he shares some incredibly important counsel that brings powerful blessings to the community of faith. "Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ" (6:2). This counsel is very important in the context of a loving church family. When we truly have 'disciple level' love for each other, as we discussed in last week's study, we will happily participate in lightening the burdens that our fellow church family members carry.

I am reminded of an old Swedish Proverb that says, "A joy that is shared is double joy, but a sorrow that is shared is half a sorrow." This simply underscores the value of community and the blessing of sharing both our joys and our sorrows.

While we can't truly remove the burdens that others carry, when we share in the reality of their challenges, we affirm their journey and remind them that they are not alone. I love the words of Bill and Gloria Gaither's song, The Family of God, "When one has a heartache we all share the tears, it's because we're a family and these folks are so dear." This is the kind of family we all long for and I am grateful to see this modeled in the members of our congregation.

In keeping with this theme I am glad to share with you that last Sabbath the Church Board voted to support a Grief Recovery Ministry that will soon begin here in our church. Over the past 12-18 months there have been quite a number of you who have personally experienced the painful loss of loved ones from a variety of causes. It is clear that there is a wonderful opportunity for us to come alongside these members of our family and extend our hearts and our support during this tender time.

In early July we will begin a six week series of sessions meeting once a week to share a video presentation followed by a discussion time to debrief the topic of the evening. This series was created by Pastor Mike Tucker and has been a great blessing for many who have participated in these times of care and support. You will soon see registration instructions which will be as simple as a call to the church office to confirm your interest.

It will be our blessing to experience God's Spirit of comfort and hope together.

Warmly,
Pastor Phil, Interim Pastor
